

Core Meeting
February 6th, 2007
8:05 – 10:10
Ginsberg Center

Absentees: Nil

Newbies: John Michael Fryback, Jocelynn Owusu, Liane Hajduch, Jessica Perszyk,
Kayla Clement

A. Bonding

- a. Name
- b. Field of Study
- c. Where you're from (e.g. Pretty Prairie, Tip City, etc.)
- d. What would you do with infinite resources and talent? (e.g. Deal crack)
- e. Where would you go alone? (e.g. The bathroom)
- f. Best middle school memory? (e.g. Cafeteria food)
- g. Worst middle school memory? (e.g. Riding the bus home along with your vomit, riding the short bus, etc.)

B. Sleep Out

- a. Email was a little confusing
 - i. Hannah flyers, looking into table tents
 - ii. Tina tshirts, contacting pike
 - iii. Dave contacting homeowners who might want to speak
 - iv. David meeting with Deb Maxicott Thursday
 - v. Jessica looking into little houses made of 2x4"
 1. we didn't get money from Ginsberg
 2. they suggested another application fits event more
 3. maybe look into other grants
 - vi. performance groups
 1. First focus on groups from last year
 2. everyone talk to who they can, sign up on list
 3. David contacting others

C. Ashley's Wednesday

D. Build Days

- a. Two this Saturday, Mr. Heckler can help out, 12:30 – 4:30
- b. Detroit running out of work
- c. Some group builds were cancelled
- d. Finishing up old houses, new houses march 24th
- e. Not much at Huron Valley

E. Global Village

- a. May 1st – 10th, 2100 - 2200 bones
- b. Information meeting Wednesday, tap room, 7:00pm
- c. Been tithing 10% to Armenia past 3 years
- d. Merenghi can get 350 – 400 clams per person
- e. Talking to travel agent about habitat discount soon

F. Website

- a. Met w/ Eric, going smoothly
- G. Collegiate Challenge
 - a. Meeting after the mass meeting on the 13th.
- H. Mass Meeting
 - a. Martes, 13th de febrero
 - b. Room 3463 Mason Hall
 - c. Flyering
 - i. Flyering 8th and 12th for February meeting
 - ii. March meeting flyering 8th and 12th too
- I. February 24th Chem Building Fundraiser
 - a. Waiting on Caribou to return call
 - b. Talked to zingermans
 - c. Brueggers usually gives day old bagels only
- J. The Golden Hammer
 - a. Was kidnapped!
 - b. Volunteer of the Month January 2007 will be Samantha Pabich
- K. Skate Night in March with St. Patty's?
- L. Kid's Fair
 - a. Fouz forwarded email to David
 - b. David will look into it and register us
 - c. Registration deadline soon
- M. Interviews (Newbies depart from their first core meeting)
 - a. 9:30 – Samantha Pabich
 - b. 9:45 –Andrea Moehle

Fouz's Middle School Memories Continued...

Best: In my English class in 7th grade we had a cultural food day where everyone brought in different foods. My friend Rocky had bet Josh he couldn't eat a portion of everything that was brought. He took the bet. Another of my friend's, David, incidentally brought vegemite (can't remember if it was vegemite or marmite, or both) sandwiches, he's from New Zealand. Our teacher tried some and after expressing how interesting the flavor was discreetly walked over to trash can and spit it out. Needless to say Josh lost the bet despite his attempts at dipping the sandwich in coke he couldn't finish one.

Worst: I joined Ski Club one year and I was going down the second smallest hill after making the bunny hill my bitch. Me and Josh got tangled and ended up crashing at the side of the hill. Skis scattered and it took a few minutes for us to get our bearings back, he was a little pissed at me; I'll admit it was my fault. When we reached the bottom I realized my braces had cut up the inside of my lips and I was bleeding all over. I expected Josh to be like whoa, let's go to the first aid hut. But instead he asked me to wait there while he went back up for one last run down the hill because we were leaving soon. So I stood there in the cold tasting my blood as it dripped into the snow watching Josh skirt off to the ski lift. I think I have repressed anger towards Josh to this day. He had to do two sets of 50 pushups for the lost bet though, sucker.